NEGRO IN A CLOSET

Startling Discovery in the House of Dr. Bryant.

LITTLE GIRL FALLS IN FAINT

She Saw Black Man Crouching in Dark Corner and Screamed. Whereupon the Intruder Ran to Window, Jumped to Shed, and Made His Escape-Police Searching for Man.

A negro, discovered in a closet on the second floor of the summer home of Dr. Emory A. Bryant, with offices in the Burlington Apartment, in Vermont avenue, near Thomas Circle, alarmed Mrs. Bryant and threw her nine-year-old daughter into hysterics shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The intruder was discovered by Helen Bryant. When the little girl saw him, he burst into the room, and when the terrified child shrank back into a corner he jumped from a window to the slanting roof of a porch, only a few feet below, and from there easily reached the ground. He then ran into a patch of woods and escaped.

Little Girl Fainted.

No men were in the house at the time The girl, who first saw the negro, fainted, and last night was in a nervous con-

The negro is believed to have entered the house while Mrs. Bryant and her daughters were at luncheon, for when Helen went upstairs she saw him crouch ing in the closet.

Mrs. Bryant telephoned her husband. Dr. Bryant notified the police, and men were sent from the Tennallytown substation to search the surrounding country. Detectives Mullen and Warren, of the Central Office, were also assigned

So far as could be learned, the negr took nothing from the house, probably being discovered before he had a chance. As he offered no harm to the girl, the charge against him, if arrested, will be housebreaking.
